

HSRProj helps researchers find ongoing projects in their areas of interest.

- Enhance literature reviews with insight into research that is still in progress
- Identify cutting-edge topics and gaps in the knowledge base
- Build networks of colleagues interested in collaborating professionally
- Access top funders of HSR

HSRProj provides funders with an overview of research trends.

- Develop strategic agendas and identify priority areas for funding based on what's happening right now
- Assess current research trends
- Identify potential grantees with substantive experience in specific topic areas
- Find experts to assist in the development of proposal solicitations or review proposals

HSRProj connects policymakers to current evidence and expert witnesses.

- Find the most up-to-date evidence on health policy issues related to cost, quality and access
- Identify experts to serve as sources of new evidence; participate in a consensus development process; or review of proposed regulations
- Connect with researchers or funders interested in studying answers to your policy questions
